

Message from the HGCAA President

May 2019

As I was thinking about what wisdom to share in this month's newsletter, I noticed a network of spider webs across my yard. This morning was very dewey. The air actually dripped with humidity. The spiders had spun webs between the grass blades, across the holes in the fence, down the birdbath stand. It was really a site to see the droplets on the webs glistening by the sun in all the places the webs were. It reminded me of all the people at work on their individual focuses; of all the industry going on around me. When it is not so dewey, I don't see any of this. It serves as a reminder look up from your own projects and see what it is going on around you. We get so busy, we sometimes don't see anything else.

Even though ISC was going on in Las Vegas, the HGCAA April meeting did meet quorum. We were delighted by Aaron Thomas of DMP with his presentation on modern hiring. This is more relevant that you know. I think we all have challenges when it comes to obtaining and retaining good talent. The meeting location and lunch was hosted by ADI on Pinemont. We so appreciate such gracious accommodations.

The May meeting will be held at ECD on Westpark on May 8 at 11:30.

Please remember, our associate members support us, so please support them. And if you are not coming to meetings, you are missing out on CEU's, great speakers, networking opportunities, and lots of inside information. As your president, I welcome any topics or issues for discussion or suggestions for improving this association. Contact me anytime at president@hgcaa.org
